INDEX

TO THE

ELEVENTH VOLUME

OF THE

Weekly Entertainer.

A.

ADVERTISEMENTS, ſingular, 58. 491, 560.

America, on its trade and agriculture, by Thomas Jefferſon, Eſq; 228.

Anagram, 165. Anſwers to, 45, 67, 187, 367.

Anecdote of an avaricious divine, 10. of a poor Welch curate, 54. of the family of Lord Sudley, 80. of Prince William Henry, 83. of a country clergyman and Lord Thurlow, 84. of Britiſh humanity, ibid. of Mr. Murphy, 100. of fidelity in a dog, 101. of Queen Elizabeth, ibid. of Mr. Erſkine, 135. of the Queen, 136. of a lawyer's laconic anſwer to an enquiry, 183. of a barber's boy who was ſuſpected without reaſon of diſhoneſty, 256. of the Captains Laforey and Balfour, 258. of the Duke of Chandos, 279. of a milkman and a drover, 303. of General Waſhington and a dwarf, ibid. of a bigotted German prieſt, ibid. of Lord Richard Cavendiſh, 304. of Sir P. J. Clerke, 304. of a daughter uncommonly dutiful, 342. of the truly patriotic Andrew Marvell, 349. of an excellent carver, 372. of a ſon of one of the great marſhals of France, ibid. of an affecting interview between a father and a ſon, 373. a whimſical, 375. of Oliver Cromwell, 397. of the Landgrave of Heſſe Caſſel and one of his officers, 419. a ſchool one from the neighbourhood of Reading, 437. of a brace of partridges, 438. of Jeffery, Archbiſhop of York, 445. of a duel, ibid. of an officer who refuſed to fight a duel, ibid. of Pope Pius IV. 469. of an Iriſh footman, 486. of the celebrated painter Apelles, 493. of the generoſity of Mr. Cuthbert, 540. of Prince William Henry, 611. of Lewis XIV. 612.

Anecdotes of Winſtone, the player, 7. of Mr. Howard, 809. of Lieutenant-General Tryon, 327. of Alexander Selkirk, 388. of the late Dr. James Nares, 392. of the lady of Oliver Cromwell, 449. of Madame Charlotte Elizabeth, of Bavaria, dowager of Monſieur, only brother to Lewis XIV. 609.

Anglade, hiſtory of the Sieur d', 49, 87.

Animals, on the lengths of their lives, 85.

Antiquities, miſcellaneous, 6.

Arſcott, John, Eſq. epitaph intended for the late, 121.

Bath,

B.

Bath, Knights of the, account of their inſtallation on May 19, 1788, with an account of the inſtitution of that order, 506.
Bon mot, 156.
Boroughs, reflections on the conſtitution of incorporated, 200.
Botany Bay fleet, authentic account of the, written by an officer, and dated from Table Bay, 529.
Bragg, an account of the late Mr. 374.

C.

Cancers, an extraordinary cure of, by the Rev. Dr. Bacon, by the uſe of cleavers or clivers, 545.
Caroline, a tale, 457.
Caution to the cruel, 2, 441.
Charades, 45, 68, 93, 117, 165, 188, 261, 284, 309, 357, 428, 477, 500, 573, 597, 620. Anſwers to, 45, 67, 92, 116, 141, 235, 260, 308, 332, 356, 381, 428, 477, 572.
Child, account of one happily preſerved from death by the uſe of the means recommended by the Humane Society of London, 203.
Children, on bringing them up with ideas of higher ſtations and more expenſive modes of living than they will be able to ſupport on the death of their parents, 174.
Clergyman, letter from a poor one in Monmouthſhire, to Thomas Gilbert, Eſq. 251.
Coal pit, account of a life preſerved after falling into one, 371.
Coat, the Green and the Brown, a tale from modern polite life, 241, 265, 305.
Comets, or blazing ſtars, on, 416.
Common errors refuted, 183.
Confectioners and bakers, a very intereſting caution to, 85.
Confederate war, curious facts relative to the campaigns in Italy in the, 409.
Conſumption, extraordinary cure of a, 612.
Cumming, Dr. of Dorcheſter, ſome account of the late, 472.

D.

Dangers of delay, the, by John Gifford, Eſq. 486, 519, 531, 568, 581.
Dealers in ſheep, a caution to, 485.
Detraction, on, 514.
Dillers, Mr. account of his firſt exhibition of philoſophic fire from inflammable air, on the 11th of April, at the Lyceum, 395.
Draper, Sir William, ſome account of, 560.
Dream, example of a ſingular, and correſponding event, 97.

E.

Engliſh officers in India, of their captivity and ſufferings, 364.
Enigmas, 21, 69, 189, 213, 237, 419, 501, 524, 549, 596. Anſwers to, 20, 68, 92, 93, 140, 141, 164, 212, 260, 284, 309, 404, 476, 499, 500, 524.
Erſkine, Mr. concluſion of his ſpeech in the Houſe of Commons, as counſel for the Eaſt-India Company on the declaratory bill, 276.
Eſſex, Earl of, letter from him, juſt before his execution, to another nobleman, 54.

F.

Family diſtreſs, melancholy inſtance of, 516.
Feathered tribe, ſingular circumſtances of the, 354.
Forgery, a ſingular method of detecting a, 326.

G.

Gameſter, the true, 15.
Gilbert, Mr. abſtract of his bill preſented to the Houſe of Commons for the better relief and employment of the poor, 313, 337, 376, 397.
Gordier, John Andrew, account of the murder of, a young gentleman of Jerſey, 150.
Guinea trade, the humble petition of thoſe concerned in it to the Commons of England, 252.

H.

Hiſtory, the tendency of, to ſtrengthen the ſentiments of virtue, illuſtrated

Iuſtrated by many beautiful examples, 586, 617.
Hyder Ally Khan, ſome account of the renowned, 560.
Hydrophobia, dreadful effects of the, in the recent caſe of Thomas Adſetts, late of Sutton upon Trent, 113.

I.

Inoculation at Luton, in Bedfordſhire, account of the great ſucceſs which attended it, by the Hon. and Rev. Mr. Stuart, and Sir William Fordyce, 474.
Inſurance, on the nature, utility, hiſtory, and ſubjects of that contract, 442.
Ireland, extracts from A Philoſophical Survey of the South of, 16, 54, 81, 102, 132, 158, 179, 204, 223, 254, 269, 300.
Iriſh bull, an, 397.

J.

James II. and William III. intereſting account of their behaviour in their dying moments, 577.
Johnſon, Dr. Samuel, his opinion concerning Stonehenge, 323. extracts from a ſermon written by him for the funeral of his wife, 425.
Judd and Rand, account of their trials for ſetting Mr. Sworder's wheat on fire, 291.
Juries, on their privileges reſpecting libels, by Capel Loffi, Eſq. 1.

K.

Knowledge, learning, and taſte, hiſtory of, in Great Britain, during the reign of Henry VII. from 1485 to 1509, 217, 246, 280, 295, 328.

L.

Langhorne, Dr. John, biographical note of, 469.
Latude, Henry Maſers de, ſketch of his life, ſufferings, and eſcapes, 420, 449.
Law, a lawyer's opinion of, 85.
Lee, Mr. letter written by the late unfortunate, the night previous to his execution, addreſſed to a friend, with ſome anecdotes of him, 324.
Lee ſtone, account of its virtues, 106.
Life, the hill of, a viſion, 614.
London cries, humorous letter on the, 481.

M.

Mad woman, account of an extraordinary, 612.
Mary, Queen of Scots, account of ſome remarkable circumſtances reſpecting that princeſs, and of the curious old houſe in Edinburgh, wherein ſhe was confined, 493.
Matthews, General, genuine and circumſtantial account of his death, 185.
Metaphors, humorous letter on their uſe in poetry, 590.
Mole, John, ſketch of his life, 446.
Mort, Mr. John, character of, 178.

N.

Narrative, intereſting, 505.
National affairs, 61, 122, 230, 344, 465, 553.
Newgate, ſtate of the gaol of, from September, 1785 to September 1786, 603.
Nunducomar, Bramin Rajah, account of the heroic magnanimity with which he ſuffered, 495.

O.

Orthography, curious ſpecimens of, 116, 229, 280, 356.
Ouang, the ſufferings of, or artful villainy diſcovered, a Chineſe ſtory, 106, 145, 169, 193.

P.

Paterſon, account of Mr. and of the project for erecting the famous company at Darien, 433.
Perfection, on the wiſdom of aiming at, 546.
Plays, on the prevailing practice of acting, by private gentlemen and ladies, writing and ſpeaking prologues and epilogues, and building private theatres, 11.
Pretender, ſome curious circumſtances relative to him, in a remarkable letter from the late David Hume, Eſq. to Sir John Pringle, 566.

Prussia, barbarous behaviour of the late King of, 138.

Q.

Quakers, their yearly epistle, 364.
Query, 261. answer to, 524.
Questions, 68, 93, 117, 141, 164, 188, 212, 236, 261, 285, 309, 357, 381, 429, 453, 477, 500, 549, 596. Answers to, 138, 164, 187, 212, 259, 283, 308, 332, 380, 405, 428, 458, 499, 524, 572, 620.

R.

Raleigh, character of Sir Walter, by Mr. Headley, 211.
Rebusses, 69, 93, 117, 141, 165, 189, 236, 261, 285, 309, 332, 381, 500, 549, 573, 620. Answers to, 67, 68, 92, 116, 140, 188, 333, 356, 380, 428, 452, 499, 548, 596, 620.
Rectitude, on the inestimable value of conscious, 163.
Regatta, Mrs. Thrale's account of the, 367.
Reparation, the, a tale, 361, 385.
Rock, or cascade, description of a remarkable one in Fayette county, in Pennsylvania, by Thomas Hutchins, 492.
Rigby, authentic memoirs of the Right Honourable Richard, 413.

S.

Secrets, thoughts on the communication and keeping of, 419.
Sensibility, of affected, a lamentation over an unfortunate animalcule, 109.
Shenstone, Mr. inscription written by a lady in honour of his memory, 452.
Slave trade, Dean Nicholls's letter on that subject, 73. other letters on that subject, 137, 155, 289. thoughts on the abolition of it, 593. proceedings at Exeter respecting it, 601.
Somerset, list of justices named in the commission for that county, 537.
Sophocles, account of the life of, by Mr. Potter, 541.
Speeches, on long, 373.
Stuart, Athenian, traits of his life, 273.
Swift, Dean, consolatory letter from him to a lady on the death of her daughter, 244.

T.

Thrale, Mrs. her letter to a gentleman on his marriage, 351. to Dr. Samuel Johnson from Brighton, 393.
Trenk, Baron, some account of his life, extracted from the German memoirs, written by himself, 318.
Trials, interesting, 198, 227, 558, 585.
Turnips, Mr. Vagg's scheme for more effectually securing a good crop of them, 605.

U.

Unmarried ladies, advice to, 484.

V.

Verses. Epilogue to the Padlock, written by a very worthy clergyman soon after its first representation, 22. a birth-day ode, by the Rev. Mr. Knowles, 23. written on the wainscot of the waiting apartment in a great office, ibid. ode for the new year, 1788, by the Rev. Mr. Warton, Poet Laureat, 46. to the writers on glass, written at an inn, 48. advice from a young lady to her female acquaintance, lately married, 70. on the late marriage of Mr. King, of Andover, to Miss Poore, of the same town, 72. epitaph on Mr. James's wife, whose maiden name was Wild, ibid. elegy on visiting the Hermitage, near Bath, by Mrs. Yearsley, the Bristol milk woman, 94. on sleep, by J. Baskerville, of Plymouth, 96. extempore lines to a young lady, amusing herself with cutting hearts on paper, one of which the author took away, but afterwards returned, ibid. epitaph on a young lady, ibid. to Mr. Pennant, on the writer's being apprized of his intention to make a visit into Cornwall, 118. lines to the memory of the late Mrs. Dobson, of Exeter, 120. a soliloquy, by

by the late H. Toller, of Taunton, ibid. lines written in the Album, at Coſſey Hall, Norfolk, by Mr. Jerningham, 142. ode to contemplation, by the Rev. Mr. Mavor, 166. Jemmy and Anna, 167. Horace book 2, ode 16, imitated, addreſſed to Sir J. Elliott, Bart. by Biſhop Percy, 190. ſonnet to content, by W. Paul, of Blackdown, 192. lines on the recovery of a wife after lying in, ibid. to the deity, on the progreſſion of human life, by J. A. Curatus, 214. ode to affection, 216. on the death of the late Chriſtopher Jones, of Crediton, Devon, woolcomber, 238. to ſpring, by Mrs. Smith, of Bignor Park, Suſſex, 240. the ſhepherd's life, by Phineas Fletcher, 262. Pharaoh's daughter, 263. on the death of Mr. John Goldring, who died in 1787, aged 22, by T. Margrie, of Bridport, 264. ſonnet, by the Rev. Mr Beloe, ibid. on the late Rev. Mr. Sleech, Archdeacon of Cornwall, 286. expectation, a ſonnet, 288. on the death and burial of Archdeacon Sleech, 310. ſong, 311. lines by the Rev. Herbert Croft, written in the character of a chimney-ſweeper, 312. on the death of William Cuming, M. D. by J. Crane, M. D. Dorcheſter, 334. lines on the wreck of the Halſewell Eaſt Indiaman, and the loſs of Captain Pierce, his daughters, nieces, and ſome other young ladies on board, 335. the morning prayer, 336. addreſſes to the Deity on the four parts of the day, by J. Cox, of Bridport, 358. epitaph, by Eye Bee, of Plymouth, 360. epitaph on a country 'ſquire buried in the Poet's Corner in Weſtminſter Abbey, ibid. Eugenio, by Mr. Polwhele, 382. an addreſs to the roſe, 384. ſmall beer, written by Dr. John Duncan, rector of South Warmborough, Hants, 406. ode to ſpring, by William Cory, of Cranborne, Dorſet, 408. the gameſter and fortune, by C. C. near Taunton, ibid. lines occaſioned by a clergyman's ſhooting himſelf, 430. a prayer, by John Frederick Bryant, late a tobacco-pipe maker in Briſtol, 431. on the death of a gardener, by Phocion, of Lambert's Caſtle Hill, 432. a farewell to the world, written in 1664, by the Rev. W. Hunt, while a juvenile ſtudent at Wadham College, in Oxford, 452. the world, 453. ſonnets by Charlotte Smith, 456, 528. to a young lady embroidering, by Dr. Johnſon, 456. written by Dr. John Langhorne and Miſs Hannah More, 469. ſonnets addreſſed to William Hayley, Eſq; Miſs Seward, the Rev. T. Warton, John Howard, Eſq; and Mr. Henry F. Cary, by Edward Pye-Waters, of Free School, Berks, 479. to a lady born on May day, by Miſs Kemble, 480. the elegiac reflection, 502. to a lady, with a preſent of Pope's works, 524. epitaph on a gravestone in a church-yard in Cornwall, ibid. the 2d chapter of Solomon's Song paraphraſed, by Amicus, of Shafteſbury, 526. Dr. Johnſon's ghoſt to Mrs. Piozzi, 528. ode to deſpair, by Charlotte Smith, 550. a recipe to make Eve's pudding, 551. on the month of May, ibid. ode for his Majeſty's birth-day, by Mr. Warton, poet-laureat, 574. contentment, 576. ode to fancy, by Mr. Mulligan, 598. lines occaſioned by the introduction of Lady Morgan to their Majeſties, when the benevolent Queen recommended her to the royal protection, 622. ideas on a change from verdure to drought, ibid. epitaph on a taylor, 623. lines written on Miſs Winne's (of Plymouth) wearing a gold key on her breaſt, 624.

Viſion, account of a peculiarity of, in a girl at Eaſt Dereham, in Norfolk, by Mr. J. S. Webſter, ſurgeon, 157.

W.

Walſingham Eaſt-Indiaman, narrative by an officer belonging to that ſhip of many peculiar circumſtances which attended the crew during their voyage to China, and a particular account of the very narrow eſcape they had of being loſt off the the iſland of Sumatra, in the Indian ſeas, 343.

Welch curate, account of the library and houſehold goods of one, 343.
Wilkes, Mr. extracts from his ſpeech in Parliament againſt Mr. Fox's celebrated India bill, 438.
Will, a curious, with a variety of notes, 25.
Winter, Mr. George, his propoſals in favour of his machine for drilling of corn, 257.

Y.

Young tradeſmen, letters to, 9, 58.